SUMOSTA
indulgence that cares

The words 'indulgence that cares' are light and not very easily readable. Already the size is small and above that the font color is light. Either bold them or use a black font color only. Basically, the objective is to highlight it & make it clearly readable.

At SUMOSTA, we believe sweetness should do more than delight. That's why we're introducing raw, unprocessed honeys from India's pristine forests — not as something you reach for only when you're unwell, but as a delicious daily indulgence that cares.

Can we please change the font type. When I read it on mobile especially I've to little stress myself to read it properly. It doesn't come naturally to eyes. Its fine to use a lil different font type but the reading should come very naturally to eyes without any difficulty.

100% RAW & UN-PROCESSED • 100% PURE, NO ADDITIVES • UN-HEATED, MINIMALLY FILTERED • NABL LAB TESTED & NPO

Now just look at similar Honeyveda Website - screenshot as below

% 100% pure, no additives No heating to cut corners Gentle bee colony Sustainable Farming No processing for taste!

I'm sure you can spot the difference clearly. There is a suitable icon for each & every content, the placement of the icon is just perfect before the content starts. And also the font type used for the content is so sharp & clear. Our SUMOSTA slider lacks in all these 3 things. Pls modify suitably.

You can observe there is so much of empty space between two sections – the slider and 'The Collection'. If you refer Honeyveda, Eatopia other D2C brand websites there is so much optimum use of spaces between contents. Also optically when a user scrolls on mobile or a laptop, such huge spaces doesn't give a pleasant experience. Not only here, but elsewhere on website also, please minimize the huge empty spaces between two sections wherever you observe.

Its my personal view – the dark brown color of the slider doesn't feel very pleasant & eye catchy to view. Instead if Caramel color can suit, please try that. I leave it on you.

Can we display the MRP & Prices of 250g on the outside since the prices are comparatively less which would help gain some traction for cost conscious buyers.

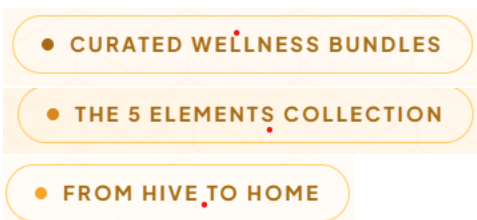

7. Refer screenshot of 'inside product section of Organic Wild Forest Honey'

The MRP written is wrong. It will be 399 & not 699. Accordingly savings % will change. In all other honey SKUs also, this issue exists where MRP of 500g is wrongly written besides the selling price of 250g, thereby wrong savings %. Please rectify the same. The updated MRP & pricing sheet was already shared before.

8. Under 'benefits' & 'how to use' sections of all the products, I want appropriate icons before every pointer. Icons communicate faster than the reading the whole text.

9. Refer the screenshots

In all the above, please remove the circular bullet as it might be mistaken as a non-veg sign as the color is also brown, maroonish.

10. Refer the screenshot below:-

THE BEEKEEPERS

“We don't manage bees. We visit them, and take only what the forest can spare.”

Our network of 40+ traditional beekeeping families climbs cliff faces in the Western Ghats and wades into Sundarbans mangroves to harvest from colonies that have never known a commercial hive box.

— Third-generation apiary partners, Western Ghats

Remove the wordings 'western ghats' and 'Sundarbans mangroves' as none of our honeys are from that zones. The Source & locations of the honeys are known to you in the product section. You shall use the correct information from there. Also at the end its written third generation apiary partners, western ghats. Will have to remove western ghats from there as well.

ALSO ON CONCEPT LEVEL I FEEL WE SHOULD REMOVE THE ABOVE SECTION FROM THE WEBSITE AS ITS NOT RELEVANT. WE WILL DISCUSS ON CALL.

11. Refer the screenshot of 'Our Story' – 4th part.

From the rare Dammer bees of the Western Ghats to the Bloodseed forests of tribal Madhya Pradesh, every honey in our range is single-origin, traceable, and harvested in small batches. We pay above-market rates. We never adulterate. We never compromise.

There is a rectification. Rare dammer bee honeys are from Nagaland forests and bloodseed is from Abujmarh Forest, Chhattisgarh. So the wordings western ghats and madhyapradesh used are incorrect.

12. In 'Our Story' section the image of 'sunflower & honey bee' is repeting again in the 5th part. Doesn't look good. Also, I have a suggestion, all the 5 parts have a title & the content – shouldn't be our images be such that resonates with that particular section. Please change accordingly.

13. Refer the below screenshot

NABL Accredited Lab Testing

Every production batch is independently tested at a National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories (NABL) accredited facility for purity, moisture content ($\leq 18\%$), HMF

- levels, adulteration markers, and absence of antibiotics. The batch certificate is tied to the Batch ID printed on every jar.

Remove '(<18%)'. Also remove the last statement 'The batch certificate is tied to the batch ID printed on every jar'. Instead mention the lab test reports are available in the respective product section.

14. Refer the below screenshot

NPOP APEDA Organic Certification

Our sourcing practices and apiaries are certified under the National Programme for Organic Production (NPOP), governed by APEDA (Agricultural and Processed Food Products Export Development Authority). This certifies that our honeys are free from synthetic pesticides, antibiotics, and chemical treatments at both the apiary and processing level.

Modify this part a little – This certifies that our wild forest honeys are free from BLA BLA and stop at chemical treatments. Remove 'at both the apiary & processing level'.

FSSAI Registered

SUMOSTA is registered with the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI). Our products meet all mandated quality parameters including diastase activity, moisture content, sucrose limits, and HMF thresholds prescribed under Indian food safety law.

Just modify the second sentence as follows – ‘Our products meet all mandated quality parameters & thresholds prescribed under Indian Food Safety law’.

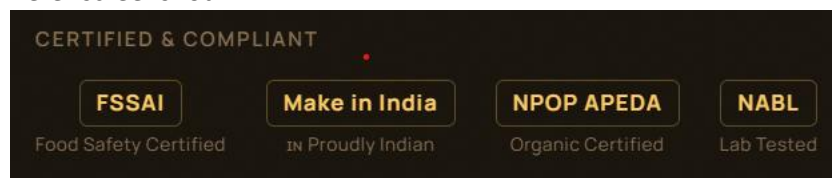

16. We will have to post the images / pdf files of each of the SKU wise ‘NABL Lab test’ reports, NPOP APEDA Certification and FSSAI license at the respective section under certificate & compliances.

17. There are problems with many of the Supporting Research links - some return a 404 error, some open content that's unrelated to the respective honey, and some redirect to completely different websites. Please ensure that every link opens correctly and points to relevant, accurate research that matches the content for the respective honey.

PLEASE COPY THE CONTENT WHICH WAS GIVEN IN THE PREVIOUS VERSION OF CORRECTIONS FILE – ‘The Scientific Angle’ content and ‘The Creditability link’ content as it is without doing any changes.

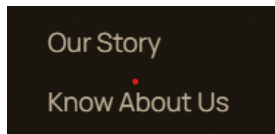

I will show you when we get on call.

18. Refer screenshot

I want the icons of these respective things on the left besides the text. FSSAI & Make in India are available in public domain easily. For NPOP APEDA, you can use Jaivik Bharat logo that is easily available on the internet. The same is also shared in the WhatsApp group by highlighting it in one of the organic wild forest honey labels. NABL lab tested also you can get from internet

19. Refer screenshot below

Our story & know about us links takes us to same our story page.

Also I feel the sumosta way, vision, mission, core purpose, belief pointers are all displayed at the end after 'Join the Colony' section. Either if we can create a separate tab 'Know about us' besides the 'Our story tab' but that will look duplication OR we can simply move the whole sumosta way, vision, mission, objectives, belief pointers into the 'Our story section' after quote 'We just don't run the company. We are the biggest customers.....'

And then you can even remove 'know about us' tab from the bottom links as well.

20. FAQs link is mentioned in the bottom right of the website but when we click it takes no-where. So lets discuss & conclude if we want FAQs or not. If not, lets remove it.

22. Product images & creatives for product section and main rotational slider on the main page – As written in the previous version of website changes document.
23. In gift boxes or combos section, we will have to discuss how we present/showcase the corporate gifting combos of DUOs & TRIOS and how we showcase bundling of bestsellers in D2C of the same DUOs & TRIOS.
24. Our website background color & the overall look & feel seems dull and passive to view. Refer other D2c websites like Honey & Spice, Eatopia, their background, colo, fonts etc look eye pleasing & sharp.
